

KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN.

VOLUME VI.—NO. 24.

LOUISVILLE: SATURDAY, JUNE 15, 1901.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

WILL MOVE.

Hibernians Have Secured New Home at Seventh and Market.

Will Be Handsomely Furnished and Ready For Use by July 1.

Divisions Will Donate Officers' Chairs to the Hall Board.

IS CENTRAL AND EASY OF ACCESS

The most important news of the past week in Hibernian circles, and which will interest all local Irish societies, is that the Hall Board of the Ancient Order of Hibernians have leased from Joseph Hubbuch for a long term of years the upper floor of the building on the southwest corner of Seventh and Market streets, which they will have elegantly furnished and ready for occupancy by July 1.

For several years past the Louisville divisions have met in the hall on Market street, between Third and Fourth, the lease on which expires next month. Recently the building was sold, and as the new owners could give no guarantee as to who the future occupants would be or what the character of the business they would engage in, it was decided to seek new quarters. The Hibernians often give social and receptions to their wives, daughters and lady friends and for some time past the accommodations at the old hall have not been adequate to their needs. And again they are determined that all their surroundings shall be of the highest order, where ladies and gentlemen can assemble with the satisfaction of knowing that no more respectable place exists in Louisville.

Tuesday night there was great rejoicing when it became known that the Hall Board had leased the building before mentioned. The board met in special session at Hibernian Hall, with Chairman John Murphy and Messrs. Tom Keenan, John Cavanaugh, James Coleman, James Barry, James Kenealy and others present. After some discussion it was unanimously decided to accept the proposition of Mr. Hubbuch, which was for a long term. The Hall Board then appointed County President Keenan and State Secretary James Coleman a sub-committee to have the new hall improved and handsomely furnished. They have already gone to work, and today the carpenters, painters and decorators are busy preparing the place for occupancy, the first meeting in which will be held by Division 1 on Tuesday, July 9.

The furniture, carpets and furnishings will be entirely new, and the Hibernian Hall will surpass that of any Louisville fraternal organization excepting the Elks. It will be much larger than the one now occupied, and another advantage that will be appreciated is that it will be located on the second floor.

When the representatives of the Hall Board visited Division 1 Tuesday night and made known their action they were warmly applauded, and in the enthusiasm that prevailed it was voted to present the board with an elegant and massive chair for the President. The same course will be pursued by the other divisions.

The hall will be fitted up to conform to the new ritual, with ante-rooms and closets for the paraphernalia, ladies' dressing rooms and everything that will contribute toward making this what is intended—a real Irishman's home and meeting place.

PRIMARIES.

Democrats and Republicans Will Nominate Next Month.

From now until the middle of July there will be a lively game of politics in this city, and only the man without opposition will have any rest. The Democratic primary will be held on Tuesday, July 9, and that for the Republicans one week later.

The entries for all the offices to be filled are about in, and the people will have a long list to select from. Club meetings are being held nightly, at which the candidates are presenting their claims for popular favor, and among the Democrats there is an enthusiasm and confidence that would indicate certain victory, though their opponents claim they will gain strength when their speakers take the stump next week.

The fighting will be watched with interest, but the final result can not be predicted until the two tickets are named. The Democrats seem more harmonious than for years past, which many business men think insures their success.

ROMAN KNIGHTS.

Cincinnati has made elaborate preparations to entertain the thousands of Sir Knights of the military rank of the Knights of St. John, which holds its annual international encampment and convention in that city on June 24 to 27. Arrangements have been perfected for the accommodation and pleasure of 30,000 visitors. Principal among the questions that will be considered by the convention is the amalgamation of all Catholic societies of the United States into one general federation. Cash prizes amounting to $2,500 will be awarded commanders having the largest attendance and making the best showing in the competitive drill.

The Knights of this city, New Albany and Jeffersonville will attend and are expected to make a fine showing. Syracuse won the prize last year, and hope they will be again victorious this year.

PRESIDENT HENNESSY

Will Guide Limerick Hibernians For Another Year.

There was a rousing gathering of Hibernians Wednesday night at the meeting of Division 4, when the first election of officers this year took place, followed by the usual social session which was enlivened by the presence of Denny Heffernan, Mike Ward, George Shea and James Cody, after an absence of some time.

John Ward was elected to membership, and the Visiting Committee reported Officer Mike Hayed, John O'Connor and John Winn as recovering from their illness.

County President Keenan was present and made a spirited address, complimenting the officers and division on the splendid record made during the past year. The Hall Board report was submitted by James Kenealy, and the division authorized the purchase of a fine chair for the new hall for Vice President Tom Lynch.

All the old officers were re-elected by acclamation excepting Secretaries John Grogan and Tom Langan, who could not serve longer. The only contest in which there was any interest was those for Financial Secretary and Assistant Secretary, Joe McGinn and Dave Reilly being elected on the first ballot out of a field of eleven. The best speech heard before Division 4 for some years was made by Harry Brady when he placed John Hennessey in nomination for re-election. Treasurer Brady was named for re-election by several and every member arose to move for his election by acclamation for the twelfth term. The election resulted as follows:

President—John Hennessey.
Vice President—Thomas Lynch.
Recording Secretary—John M. Gillespie.
Financial Secretary—Joseph P. McGinn.

Assistant—Dave Reilly.
Treasurer—Harry Brady.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Jerry Hallahan.
Sentinel—William Ansbro.
President Hennessey will announce his standing committees at the next meeting, when the installation will take place.

NAZARETH.

Famous Academy Will Graduate Large Class Next Week.

The annual commencement exercises of Nazareth Academy will be held next Thursday, and many will attend from this city who in former years graduated from this famous Nelson county seat of learning, which was established nearly one hundred years ago. The programme for the occasion is one of exceptional merit and embraces some very artistic and brilliant literary and musical features. The young ladies who will graduate are Misses Edwina Parker, Louise Baldwin, Aline Berton, Georgiana Jones, Fay Duffy, Louise McNamara, Anna Fields, Mary Douglass and Olivia Collyer. The valedictory address will be delivered by Miss Lucille Newman, of Bardstown. Besides Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey it is expected that Monsignor Bouchet and a number of Louisville clergymen will be present.

The following will receive second literary honors: Misses Annie Belle Kelly, Lucille Newman; Anna Paden, Lorena Bordelon, May Belle Yarrington, Lulu Tarlton and Mary Hogarty.

SETTLED.

The carpenters' strike has been settled, the Builders' Exchange having agreed to arbitration. Concessions were made by both sides, the carpenters consenting to withdraw from the Building Trades Council and the builders to the nine-hour day and $2.50 wage. The strike has been on since May 2, and during its existence the conduct of the men has been such as to win for them the friendship of the general public.

ACROSS THE RIVER.

Catholic Knights' Mass Meeting at Holy Trinity Hall.

Richard Delahanty, aged seventy-five years, died Sunday morning at his home, 919 Culbertson avenue, New Albany. He was a native of Ireland and came to this country as a young man, locating in New Albany many years ago. Three daughters survive him. Mr. Delahanty was a devoted husband, kind father and good citizen. Modest and unassuming, he pursued the even tenor of his way with good will toward his fellow-men and honestly meeting every duty in life. A large assembly of his neighbors attended his funeral at Holy Trinity church Tuesday morning. Rev. Father Kelly conducted the services and preached the funeral sermon, dwelling upon the uncertainty of life and the respect in which the deceased was held.

Dennis Gorman, the newly appointed State Organizer for the Catholic Knights of America, will address a mass meeting tomorrow night at Holy Trinity Hall, to be held under the auspices of the New Albany branches. Rev. Father Hildebrand, of St. Mary's on the Knobs, and others prominent in Southern Indiana will also speak. The benefits of this great fraternal society will be made plain by the speakers, who are earnest workers and hope to largely increase the membership. The programme will be an interesting one and should attract a large audience.

Great preparations are being made at St. Mary's church for the confirmation services to be held there by Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue on Sunday morning, June 30. The sacrament will be conferred on a class of nearly 200 boys and girls, the largest in the history of the church. Dean Faller and the Sisters have had the young people under special instruction for several months, and this occasion will be one of extra solemnity and splendor.

The Women's Hospital Club gave a strawberry festival Wednesday afternoon and night at St. Joseph's Hall for the benefit of St. Edward's Hospital that netted a goodly sum for the building fund. This club is largely composed of young working women, who have labored zealously for the success of the hospital, which will be free to all, and all their efforts have thus far been crowned with glowing success. They propose to keep up their good work during the entire year.

SENATOR M'NUTT.

Popular Democrat Will Have United Support of His Party.

Among the many Democrats who are aspiring to office none are more popular or deserving of the support of the people of Louisville and Jefferson county than H. S. McNutt, candidate to represent Jefferson county and the First and Second wards in the Kentucky State Senate. Well known in business circles, honorable in his dealings with all classes and steadfast to his friends, he is possessed of qualifications that eminently fit him for a seat in the upper house, and in recognition of these facts he will have no opposition in the primary, and that his election in November is almost as sure as his nomination next month is generally conceded. During his entire business life he has been considerate of the rights of the working people, who should all be for him, knowing that their interests will in him have an earnest and able advocate. Imbued with advanced ideas, liberal minded and charitable, the State would be much benefited were there more men like him in the Legislature.

FRANKFORT WEDDING.

Wednesday afternoon at the Church of the Good Shepherd in Frankfort, Miss Mamie Parker and James A. Sullivan were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Father Major officiating. The bride was charmingly gowned in pure white Paris muslin and carried bride's roses, and never looked more pretty, while the groom wore conventional broadcloth. Miss Nellie Sullivan was bridesmaid and was attired becomingly in pink silk and carried pink roses. Joseph Chromie, of Lexington, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sullivan on Madison street, where a delightful luncheon was served. The happy young couple left for Louisville, from which place they will go to the Pan-American Exposition and other eastern points. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will go to housekeeping in the Graham residence on Madison street, which has been newly furnished throughout.

MOUNTRATH.

The Largest Irish Demonstration Witnessed For Many Years.

Flag of United Irish League Held High in the People's County.

Question of Home Rule the Paramount Question For Ireland.

THE RIGHTS OF THE IRISH LABORER

The Dublin Weekly Freeman says that one of the largest demonstrations witnessed in "the people's county" for many years was that which took place at Mountrath on Saturday. The meeting was organized by the Divisional Executive of the United Irish League with the co-operation of the local branches and large contingents attended from the neighborhood of Mountrath and also from many of the outlying districts of the county. From 12 o'clock the delegations, accompanied in many instances by bands and banners, began to arrive and at 2 o'clock, the hour appointed for the opening of the meeting, an enormous gathering had assembled. Rev. J. J. Kane presided, and after reading several letters introduced the speakers.

J. H. Fitzpatrick, J. P., proposed a series of resolutions in favor of the national programme. L. T. Kelly, in seconding the resolutions, pointed out that they had once more a united Irish party, as they had in the days of Charles Stewart Parnell. There were some members of the party, however, who had not attended to their duty and he hoped that their constituents would bear this in mind and take proper action when the opportunity offered. Some rumors injurious to their own representative had been circulated, but he (Kelly) had it on the authority of some of the oldest members of the party that Delany was one of the best members of the party.

The Chairman announced that Delany, M. P., would support the resolutions and in doing so he paid a tribute to Delany's exertions in Parliament.

Delany, who on coming forward was loudly cheered, said: The question of home rule was the paramount question for Ireland. It did not matter much what they got passed if they had home rule, and it mattered little what they got passed if they had not home rule, because while they had Dublin Castle administering the law they would have no justice in Ireland. The Irish party had placed the land question in the fore front of their programme. Let their be no mistaking the demand that goes forth from the United Irish League on this question. It was not the land for the ranchman in the West, of the big grazier or the farmer alone, but for the laborer as well. No measure of compulsory sale would have the support of the Irish party that did not engage the right of the Irish laborer to purchase his home upon the same terms as the farmer. Having referred to the other questions touched upon in the resolutions, he dwelt on the necessity of strengthening the organization which had brought about the unity of the Irish people not alone in Ireland, but in Great Britain, and which had formed the United Irish party. The party was prepared to carry on the national struggle with earnestness and determination and their methods had been to make themselves as obnoxious to their foreign rulers as they could.

J. J. O'Shea, M. P., said a marvelous change had come about and the cause of that change was that the Irish people two years ago made up their minds to be united in a great organization which William O'Brien had originated, built up and consolidated—the United Irish League. It was due to the magnificent, unparalleled energy of William O'Brien, who had at a time when Irishmen almost despaired of their country, came forward with a courage unparalleled in the history of his country and rallied the people to gether again and welded them into what had since become the national organization. The United Irish League had sent a united party to the British House of Commons and the unity of the people's organization and its cohesion had compelled cohesion in the party and he asked the support of the people for that party.

P. A. Meehan, Chairman of the Queen's County Council, said it was his duty to support the Irish party and enable them to carry on their work. He appealed to them to swell the ranks of the local branches of the United Irish League, and as members of the organization put their hands in their pockets and subscribe to the national fund.

Upton (Dunrogh) and John Murphy, having also addressed the meeting, a vote of thanks to the Chairman concluded the proceedings.

EXCURSION TOMORROW.

The South End Outing Club, composed of well-known young men of the southern part of the city, will give their friends a pleasant excursion tomorrow to Madison, Carrollton and the Kentucky river. The steamer Columbia will leave the wharf at 8:30 and a select party is assured. Tickets are only twenty-five cents.

'SQUIRE JOHN McCANN.

Popular Magistrate a Candidate For Judge of City Court.

'Squire John McCann, for the past twenty-eight years Magistrate in the Seventh district, has at the solicitation of his thousands of friends announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the City Court. During these many years he has made an honest official, and is recognized by the local and State courts as a gentleman of stanch integrity. Years ago he was admitted to the Louisville bar, and no man is better qualified for the position. Ripe in years and experience, 'Squire McCann possesses all the requirements that go to make a Judge who will mete out justice with mercy. His public and private life have been exemplary. His friendship for those who toil is well known and his many kind acts will bring to his ticket those who were taking little interest in the present campaign. The announcement was received with great favor and he is constantly receiving assurances of support from all quarters.

DEPARTS FOR IRELAND.

Hon. Matt O'Doherty Will Spend Three Months Abroad.

Hon. Matt O'Doherty, one of the leading members of the bar of Louisville and Kentucky, and an Irishman recognized everywhere for his patriotism and public service, will leave next Wednesday for an extended visit to Ireland and a tour of the European continent, including France, Switzerland, Rome and perhaps Spain, returning home about September 1.

His stay in the Emerald Isle should prove very pleasant, our distinguished fellow-citizen being acquainted with and the personal friend of such well-known Nationalists as William O'Brien, John Redmond, John Dillon, Mayor Daly of Limerick, Father Sheehy and the editors of the leading papers throughout Ireland. His friends in Louisville have urged him to visit many places of interest and bear messages to parents and relatives, and from Cork to the Giant's Causeway he will be received with a "Cead mille failte." The Kentucky Irish American wishes him bon voyage and a happy season abroad.

HOPEFUL OF RECOVERY.

News reached here Tuesday from Memphis that John Kelly, a former well known resident of Louisville and for many years with the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Ninth and Broadway, was seriously ill of congestion of the brain, and Wednesday his son, Rev. Father John Kelly, of the Dominican church, and his daughters, Mrs. John Carney and Miss Annie Kelly, left to be at his bedside. Nothing having been heard from there since Thursday morning it is believed there has been a change for the better in his condition.

WILLIAM LAWLER.

The many friends all over the city of William Lawler are elated over the news that he will be given a Deputyship by Robert J. Tilford if that gentleman is successful in the race for the office of Sheriff of Jefferson county. Will Lawler would make a good official in the Court-house. His business ability and integrity are known, and he possesses other qualities that make his support valuable. His friends would rejoice to see him secure the position.

GRAND PICNIC.

Everything is in readiness for the grand picnic to be given at Phoenix Hill next Wednesday by the St. Aloysius Society. The gentlemen members and their lady friends are prepared to entertain a large crowd, and all who go are assured a pleasant time. The committee in charge have secured excellent music, and besides dancing have provided special amusement features. Those who would aid a deserving school should attend.

CONFIRMED.

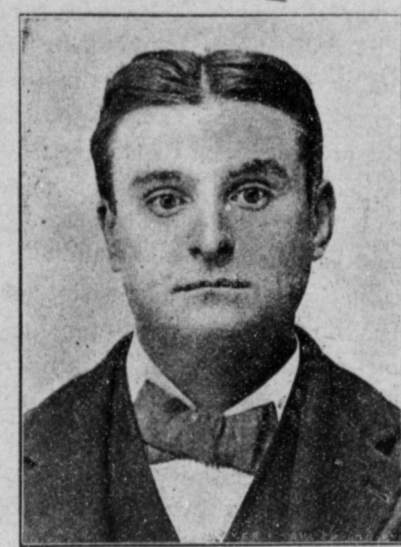

The Sacred Heart church at Seventeenth and Broadway was filled yesterday morning to witness the administering of the sacrament of confirmation to a large class by Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. The recipients of the sacrament numbered about seventy. The remarks of the Bishop were very instructive and were listened to with marked interest. The same class received their first holy communion last Sunday morning. The boys dressed in black and the girls in white, crowned with wreaths, presented an inspiring spectacle. Father Walsh preached a feeling and impressive sermon, explaining the great blessing God was conferring upon them and urging them to often receive the sacrament and thus save their immortal souls. Catholics generally compliment the pastor and the people of the Sacred Heart church upon their devotion to duty and the excellent condition of the parish, which is now one of the best in the diocese.

YOUNG LAWYER.

Becomes a Candidate For Magistrate at Request of Democrats.

At the request and solicitation of a large number of voters of the Eighth Magisterial district, composed of the Eleventh and Twelfth wards, John R.

Doughtan, the well-known young attorney, has announced himself a candidate for Magistrate. Mr. Doughtan was born and raised in Louisville, and has been in active practice of law here since 1887, with the exception of three years that he was engaged in Waco, Texas. For four years he was in the office of the late Hon. Frank Parsons, Commonwealth's Attorney, and also for the same period of time in the office of Major D. W. Sanders, when he attended the law lectures at the law department of the University of Louisville. He was a classmate of Hon. James P. Gregory, our present County Judge.

Mr. Doughtan is well qualified for the office, and if nominated and elected will give general satisfaction to the litigants of the district. The office of Magistrate is one that requires a knowledge of law, and as he is the only candidate who is a lawyer there should be no doubt of his success.

FOREST PARK PICNIC.

Hibernians of Jeffersonville to Celebrate in Real Irish Style.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of Jeffersonville have disposed of a large number of tickets for their annual celebration and picnic, which takes place at Forest Park next Wednesday. This picnic will be on a more elaborate scale than any of its predecessors, and the gentlemen in charge have arranged for novel features that will revive Irish amusements and pleasures of long ago.

Among the prominent Irishmen of Jeffersonville who are lending their aid are Barney Coll, Robert Gleason, Will Reilly, James Dougherty, Jack Murphy, Raymond Stanton, Dan Gleason, Frank Hogan, Michael Kenney, and they assure their friends such a time as they never had before and will never forget. The division over the river is among the most influential in Indiana, and the members expect to entertain a large number of their New Albany and Kentucky brethren upon that occasion.

CAME FAR TO WED.

Miss Annie Keating and Patrick Broderick were made man and wife Wednesday morning before the altar of the Church of the Annunciation at Shelbyville, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Fitzgerald, who also celebrated the nuptial mass, at which a large congregation assisted. The bride is the lovely and accomplished daughter of Peter Keating, of Shelbyville, and a true type of Kentucky's best womanhood. The groom is a popular resident of Westboro, Mass., where he is prominent in Knights of Columbus and Hibernian circles. He will be pleasantly remembered by many who met him in this city last year, when he visited his brother, John Broderick, 1608 Gallagher street. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's father, many relatives and friends assembling with good cheer at the marriage feast. The happy couple left for Westboro, where the groom has extensive business interests, followed by the wishes of all for a life of unalloyed bliss and prosperity.

MORE NEW BLOOD.

The members of Branch 2, of the Catholic Knights and Ladies of America, enjoyed a pleasant reception at their hall Wednesday night, in celebration of the admission of new members and twenty-four additional applications. Short speeches and refreshments were features. This is known as St. Patrick's branch and is the strongest in the United States.

GOOD NEWS.

Paraphernalia For the New Hibernian Ritual Expected Next Week.

Much of It Comes From Ireland, Causing the Long Delay.

Degree Teams Now Ready to Initiate the Large Number Waiting.

WILL CONFER ALL THE DEGREES

The Hibernians of Louisville welcome the news that the paraphernalia for the new ritual will arrive here next week, after what seemed an unusually long delay. The County Board, however, had decided that the outfits for the order here should be supplied by those of none of the large cities, and this necessitated procuring certain portions from Ireland, hence the long wait.

From State Secretary Coleman and County President Keenan we learn that they received word from the manufacturers that everything would be here for the next meeting of Division 1, when the first and second degrees will be conferred upon Messrs. Mike Sweeney, Joe Byrne, Robert J. Hagan, Tom Tarpey, John J. Flynn, Thomas Walsh, Jerry Donahue, F. J. Curran, John Brown, Edward Hines, John Riley and Edward Broderick, who have been elected members of that division.

The new ritual when thus exemplified will be in the nature of a revelation to the members. It will be both artistic and instructive, furnishing food for thought and reflection, and besides being very entertaining will add great interest to the proceedings and attract better attendance. Some idea of the richness and magnificence of the paraphernalia may be formed when it is stated that the four divisions will appropriate a sum aggregating nearly $1,000 therefor.

The two degree teams have been perfecting themselves for their work for some time past and have succeeded beyond their most sanguine expectations. The new candidates will be notified to meet with Division 1 on Tuesday evening, June 25, and it is expected the conferring of the degrees will attract a large attendance.

On Wednesday evening, June 26, the third and fourth degrees will be exemplified at the meeting of Division 4 for the first time, and the members generally are anxious to see this work done. From what the Kentucky Irish American has been able to learn it can safely state that this latter will more than meet the expectations of the most critical. Should there be any change from the foregoing the degree teams will most likely make the same known through these columns. With the new ritual in working order and the new home ready for occupancy Louisville Hibernians may prepare for a season of prosperity and enjoyment.

GOOD MAN DEAD.

Constable John Glenn Succumbs to Lingering Illness.

Last Sunday afternoon the soul of Constable John J. Glenn, son, brother and husband, passed peacefully to its heavenly reward at his home, 1826 Colgan street, after a long illness of a complication of diseases, which refused to yield to the tender care of loving hands or the best medical skill.

John Glenn was a young man well known and held in high esteem throughout the city, but particularly in Limerick and the West End, where he had spent the major portion of his life. For years he held a responsible position with the Doerhoevers in their tobacco manufactory, but at the earnest solicitation of friends he stood for and was elected Constable in the Eighth Magisterial district, since which time he has been quite prominent in the councils of the Democratic party. As an official his record was faultless, and his good judgment and kind heart saved many deserving poor from the persecution of the grasping and greedy.

Constable Glenn was thirty-five years old and leaves a loving wife and four children to mourn his demise. James Glenn, the saloonist at Eighteenth and Broadway, is a brother of the deceased. His funeral took place Tuesday morning from the Sacred Heart church, where requiem mass was celebrated for the happy repose of his soul by Rev. Patrick Walsh. There was a large attendance at the solemn services, all classes being represented. The Kentucky Irish American tenders its sympathy to the bereaved wife, children and relatives, and mourns the loss of another of its stanch supporters.

ALUMNI ADDRESS.

Thomas Walsh, the well known lawyer, will deliver the principal address before the alumni of St. Mary's College, Marion county, next Wednesday. Exercises will be unusually interesting and will be witnessed by a large audience.

WORDS OF TRUTH.

Right Rev. Dr. McFaul, Bishop of Trenton, never lets opportunity pass to say good words for the Catholic press, of which he is an earnest and true friend. That he realizes the necessity for a better support of these journals, who take an important part in defending the church and clergy, is manifest from the following written to a contributor of the Catholic Transcript of Hartford, Conn.:

"You are right in regard to the Catholic press. Bishops and priests should do everything in their power to build it up and to extend the sphere of its usefulness. An able Catholic press can greatly assist the church in her divine mission, purify the atmosphere of the home, keep it Catholic, and the rising generation in touch with Catholic thought and action as well as inspire that courage in defense of faith, virtue and right which is born of truth. We should endeavor to have Catholic papers and magazines on all news stands, and educate our people up to read and ask for Catholic literature. Supply will follow demand."

LABOR TRUSTS.

The reverend and able editor of the Providence Visitor, in replying to a Socialist's queries, makes some statements with which we heartily agree. The Visitor, he says, in common with the present Holy Father and the great Church Catholic, is not opposed to the working man. The majority of its best and most loyal subscribers are found in that class. It is not even afraid of the modicum of sense that lies behind socialistic agitation. We believe the working man deserves better treatment at the hands of the capitalist all round, and we are glad to see him forming trusts of labor to secure that end. We hope the labor trust will be a little more scrupulous than the trusts of capital. In this we are somewhat more reasonable, we imagine, than many of our dissenting brethren, who are beginning to look askance at trade unions and similar associations of men. If the workman only knew it, he has a better friend in the present Holy Father than in some of the flippant and shallow-brained writers who dupe him from week to week, and cheat him out of his pennies with brave words about the beatific era which will dawn when this groaning and overworked earth becomes a paradise of do-nothings.

LESSON AND WARNING.

Mr. Jesup's hysterical "we don't deserve it" and Mr. Griscom's frenzied call for an Anglo-American alliance show to what a pitch of nervous excitement the worthy American guests of London have been wrought by British hospitality and the lavish attentions of royalty and titled and untitled grandees. Their sensations are proving too great a strain upon these men of quiet life and simple tastes, says the New York World.

To take their emotional expressions seriously is at once absurd and unkind. And when the agitation is over and they have cooled and calmed their heated brains they will be themselves again—sober, industrious, plain American men of affairs. This Anglo-American hospitality can have no permanent bad results and ought to have some which would be extremely valuable. It ought to aid each people to learn the great lesson which the other can teach it.

England can learn from us the inevitable consequences of a long period of steady application to one's own business. We have been peaceful, progressive citizens of the world, devoting ourselves assiduously and exclusively to the only task which any nation or any individual can perform well—the task of self-development.

We can learn from England the inevitable consequences of minding other people's business. England has for a hundred years devoted itself to building up a great, flabby, formless "empire." It has squandered billions of money; it has squandered its best blood, the most energetic, the most intelligent, the most progressive of its citizens.

What are the results of these two policies? The mind-your-own-business policy of the republic has gradually raised it to amazing internal development and to predominance in the markets of civilization. The neglect-your-own-business-for-glory-and-empire policy of England has so far sapped its strength and its resources that even Englishmen admit England's decline. Let England learn from us. Let us take warning from England.

The able editors of the Courier-Journal and Evening Times might study the foregoing with some profit.

The sad and unexpected death of Charles G. Hulsewede removes from our midst an honored and respected citizen, who by perseverance and integrity had succeeded in winning a high place at the Louisville bar, his ability and knowledge securing for him an immense practice. His death was a shock to his thousands of friends and cast a gloom over the city.

The candidacy of 'Squire John McCann for Judge of the Police Court meets with universal favor. His qualifications for the position are of the highest order, and under his administration justice would be done all.

"BLESSED THE PEACEMAKER."

The mystery surrounding the death of Father Phillips, of Hazelton, should not blind the public to the importance of his services as peacemaker in the Pennsylvania coal regions, says the Elmira Telegram. Having worked in the mines, he sympathized with and understood the miners. A man of education and affairs, he had the confidence of the mine owners, and was not disposed to ignore their interests. His calling and his stubborn fair-mindedness made him an effective peacemaker in cases where the ordinary negotiator failed utterly. It was no small achievement to bring peace out of the turbulent conditions that prevailed in the Pennsylvania mining regions last fall. On one side were 150,000 excited, tenaciously stubborn miners smarting under a sense of injury and injustice. On the other were the co-operating mine owners, determined to carry their point. The controversy, coming in the year of the Presidential election, had more than the usual menace to the country. The leaders of both political parties understood the gravity of the situation and the vital importance of a peaceful settlement. But their intercession was, for weeks, without result. Then Father Phillips, friend of the miners, came into the field, and, while the leaders of the strikers were protesting that there was no peace and no hope of settlement, peace came through the efforts of Father Phillips. In scores of cases he became the intermediary between strikers and employers. He represented the animosities and prejudices of neither the one side nor the other. Well equipped for the work, he employed himself in the interests of peace and in preventing turbulence, in holding the miners aloof from outlaws, in restraining the employers from unjust exactions, in compelling a better understanding between parties to controversies which involved millions of property and the interests of State and nation, and he was more successful than any other man of his time. For all this he will be remembered, and there will be thousands to say, "Blessed is the peacemaker."

Running velvet ribbon under little straps of the material, or lace, caught on with buttons is still another form of skirt trimming, the ribbon being tied in a bow either directly in front or at the back. This is seen in a red velvet tucked from the waist to the knee.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Ella McCollum was this week the guest of Mrs. Denis Shanahan, Second and Breckinridge streets.

Messrs. Edward and John Monahan and Edward Malone have arrived home from Georgetown University.

Miss Kate Murray and her mother have arrived at their home in Jeffersonville, after a protracted visit at New Orleans.

The Misses Diehle, East Broadway, entertained two fair visitors, Miss Emma Clark, of Connecticut, and Miss Gutman, of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Smith and little son Vinnie leave today for a ten days' visit to Washington and Old Point Comfort.

Among the distinguished visitors of the past week was Rev. Father O'Fallon, the well-known Virginia clergyman, who was the guest of Cornelius M. Shanahan, 937 Third street.

Mrs. J. L. Welsh and her charming daughter, Miss Dillon, of Birmingham, Ala., arrived here this week on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dillon, 417 East Breckinridge street.

One of the daintiest and most enjoyable out-door affairs of the season was the lawn fete given Monday evening at 2509 First street for the benefit of the Ladies' Society of South Louisville. The attendance was quite large, and many hope that similar fetes will be given throughout the summer.

Jeremiah O'Keefe, for many years a trusted employe of the Illinois Central Railroad Company in this city, has been tendered a position as agent for the Hamburg-American Steamship Company. As acceptance would require his removal to New York, his Louisville friends are urging him to decline it.

Edward Harris, one of Limerick's most popular young men, will leave shortly for an extended stay at West Baden Springs. He has just recovered from a severe illness and his hosts of friends are glad to see him out again. Rumor has it that upon his return he will wed a beautiful young lady of South Louisville.

An enjoyable social party was given this week at the residence of D. J. Coleman on Portland avenue in honor of Michael McGuire, whose absence from recent West End social affairs was felt among his friends. Prominent among those present were Misses Charlotte Walsh, Julia Kelly, Lizzie Walsh, Kate McGuire, Mamie Kelly, Mamie and Annie Walsh and a number of gentlemen friends.

The many friends of John M. O'Neill, the well-known real estate man, were pleased to see him among them again this week, fully restored to health and looking handsomer than ever. Mr. O'Neill had been ill during the spring, and upon the advice of his physicians spent some time at Asheville, N. C., with the most satisfactory results. Many have called at his office to extend their congratulations.

Hon. Augustus E. Willson, the prominent attorney, suffered last week a sudden and serious attack of pneumonia, and for several days his condition was regarded critical. Reports from his home are that there has been a decided change for the better. His family and friends now feel hopeful that his recovery will be speedy, which news will be welcomed throughout the city, as Mr. Willson has the confidence and respect of all classes.

Mrs. Joseph P. McGinn has returned to her home on West Chestnut street, after a ten days' visit with her sister, Mrs. R. B. Pottinger, at Owensboro. We regret that the pleasure of her visit was marred by the death of Mrs. X. F. Pottinger, wife of her nephew, who was one of the most Christian and highly esteemed young ladies of that section. She was the daughter of R. A. Lancaster, a prominent resident of Davison county.

Owen Tegart, Jr., one of the best-known young men of New Albany, and Miss Mary Howard, one of the prettiest young women of the West End, were married Tuesday morning at the Church of Our Lady, Rev. Father Conniff performing the ceremony, which was largely attended by members of the families of the contracting parties and friends. After a wedding breakfast and reception the happy couple left for Chicago and the West. Upon their return they will reside at 3112 High avenue. The many friends of the bride and groom wish them a pleasant trip, a safe arrival home and a long and happy life.

During June rogish little Cupid flings his arrows far and wide, and among the happy young people who have succumbed to His Majesty's wishes are Miss Georgia Rehm and John D. McDonogh, whose wedding will be solemnized at the Cathedral next Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock, Rev. Father Schuhman officiating. Miss Rehm is a daughter of the well-known shoe merchant at Sixth and Chestnut streets, and is a lady of many admirable traits of character and great beauty. The groom is the son of Edward McDonogh, and is well known in Main street business circles, holding a responsible position with the Carter Dry Goods Company. Both are popular and their marriage will be among the notable ones of the month. After a reception and wedding breakfast the newly wedded couple will leave for Buffalo and the Pan-American Exposition, and upon their return will reside in the Highlands.

A pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at Holy Cross church Wednesday, the contracting parties being Miss Fannie Smith and Daniel T. Lysaght, the Rev. Father Cunningham performing the ceremony that united the happy couple. The attendants were Miss Ida May Smith and Joe Burke. The pretty bride was gown in a handsome traveling costume. No invitations were issued to the ceremony, as the young people preferred a marriage without display, but the news leaked out through the Kentucky Irish American. Mrs. Lysaght is the daughter of the late Gran Smith and is well known in local church and social circles. The groom is a young Irishman of great promise, who came here to accept a fine position with the Carter Dry Goods Company. He is the son of Daniel Lysaght, of St. Joseph, and a nephew of Rev. Father Patrick Lysaght, of Kansas City. After the ceremony the bridal couple left for Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where they are spending their honeymoon.

COMMENCEMENTS.

Next week will be an important one in Catholic educational circles, commencement exercises of three well-known institutions of learning then taking place. Monday morning an elaborate program will be rendered at the Presentation Academy by the pupils of that famous school, including essays, recitations, choruses, vocal and instrumental solos, duets, etc., which promises to surpass any ever witnessed before. Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey will deliver an address. Miss Margaret Daly will have conferred upon her a crown and diploma and Misses Olivia Kelly and Lizzie Strohmeyer literary honors. The exercises will commence at 10 o'clock, and admission will be by ticket only.

St. Benedict's Academy commencement exercises will take place Tuesday morning at St. Anthony's Hall. This will also attract a large audience, as the school is very popular in the West End. Wednesday morning the friends of the Academy of the Sisters of Mercy on Second street will fill Macaulay's Theater to witness the graduating exercises. The programme arranged is artistic and high class and will prove most pleasing to the former graduates and friends of that celebrated institution, among whom are many of Louisville's most prominent belles and matrons. The honors of the school will this year be conferred upon Miss Lizzie Tarpey, the pretty and accomplished daughter of Tom Tarpey, and Miss Allie Roueche. Medals and prizes will be conferred upon the other pupils. The two young ladies mentioned are the graduates for this year.

HAPPY REUNION.

Mrs. John J. Barrett and her cousin, Mrs. Ellen Welsh, returned home Tuesday evening after a pleasant visit of four weeks spent with relatives and friends in the Northwest. An interesting feature of this visit was the happy reunion of a family of five sisters and two brothers who had not met in forty years.

Mrs. Welsh, who has lived in Louisville many years, has the following relatives in Minnesota: Mrs. Kate McAndrews, Minneapolis; Mrs. Margaret Daly and Mrs. Mary Rymer, St. Paul; Mrs. Winifred Mahony, Forrest; and Patrick and John Hanlon, Shieldsville. These sisters and brothers all gathered in Minneapolis on May 19 and welcomed their sister from Kentucky and their cousin, Mrs. Barrett, with a hearty "Cead mille failthe."

It is not often that reunions of this kind occur, but it is only people of our race who know the joy that reigns in the hearts of the loved ones who have been separated two-score years.

Of course from that time on Mrs. Welsh and Mrs. Barrett had to spend several days with each brother and sister, with their children and their children's children. The visitors visited St. Paul, Minneapolis, Faribault, Forrest, Shieldsville and many other little country places.

They are loud in their praises of the climate and country of the northwest and are fully impressed with the fact that the Irish own everything there.

On their way home the Kentucky ladies spent several days in Chicago with Mrs. Barrett's son, George.

ENJOYABLE MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL.

The Young Ladies' Sodality and the members of the Altar Society of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament are issuing invitations to an ice cream and summer festival to be held Monday evening, July 1, at St. Columbas' Hall, adjoining the church. The proceeds will be devoted to church work, and as the pastor, Rev. Father D. O'Sullivan, has friends in every parish in Louisville, special preparations will be made for their entertainment. The demands upon him have been many and his work laborious, and our readers are urged to spend a pleasant evening with him and the maids and matrons of his congregation and lighten his burden.

Division 7 recently gave an interesting entertainment in Clan na Gael Hall, South Boston. A feature of the evening was Congressman Napen's address on Burke and Webster, two of the world's greatest orators.

RECENT DEATHS.

Much sympathy is felt for Emmet and Katie Larkins, who last Sunday sustained the loss of their infant daughter Maggie. The funeral took place from the residence, 2021 Lytle street, and the little one was tenderly laid to rest in St. Louis cemetery.

Sister Mary Catherine Carrell passed peacefully away Saturday evening at the Sacred Heart Home on College street, after a life spent in the service of God and the Sisters of Mercy. Her funeral took place Monday afternoon from the Home chapel, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

The unexpected death Monday morning of Mrs. Mary Donovan-Sheedy was a shock to her relatives and acquaintances. Though fifty-seven years old she was hale and hearty and moved about with the ease of one many years younger. The deceased resided with her son-in-law, Charles St. Clair, 1029 Rufer avenue, and was a devout member of St. Brigid's church, where her funeral took place Wednesday morning, Rev. Father Connolly conducting the services.

The funeral of Thomas Connors took place yesterday morning from St. John's church. His death was a sad one. While returning to this city he fell from an L. & N. train near Independence, both legs being cut off. He was removed immediately to the Covington Hospital, but died within an hour after his arrival there. His remains were brought to this city Thursday by Dougherty & Keenan. Mr. Connors was well known in the East End and resided at 1015 East Walnut street.

Coleman B. Davis, an aged and respected resident of Bullitt county, succumbed to an attack of paralysis last Wednesday. His remains were brought to this city and the funeral took place from the Cathedral Thursday morning. The deceased was born about seventy-four years ago near Clifden, County Galway, Ireland, but came to this country forty-five years ago and resided in Kentucky the greater part of that time. He will be remembered by many as the Superintendent of the quarries on the Bardstown road when they were operated by the Louisville & Nashville railroad. His remains were interred in St. Louis cemetery.

JUNE GAEL.

The Gael this month is an improvement over all former issues. This excellent Irish magazine should find place in every home circle. Among the most valuable contributions is an illustrated poem by Charles J. O'Malley, entitled "Cuan Modh, the Norse King's Daughter," presenting the legend of the banshee or warning spirit reputed to follow the famous O'Malley family of West Connetquot about the year 813. Other contributors are Katharine Tynan-Hinkson, Charles O'Farrell, Sarah Blennerhassett and John G. Lee. The Gael is ably edited by Miss Geraldine M. Haverly at 150 Nassau street, New York, and always contains very interesting and readable matter.

ATTENDANCE AT MASS.

It is somewhat reprehensible to see how some people attend the holy sacrifice of the mass. They must imagine that all that is required of them is presence of body and not of mind. These people go to church and are nervous during the mass, wishing it was over. They look around, thereby attracting the attention of others; they have neither books nor beads, and it is even doubtful if they ever think a prayer or raise their soul to God. And so they go on from year to year, no doubt believing that they have complied with their duty in so doing, when in reality they may have committed sin.

Perhaps these people do not know the great importance of the mass. Have they forgotten their catechism. Let them recall to their minds the words of our Lord, "Do this in commemoration of Me." The mass is the unbloody sacrifice of Calvary. It is the most awful, the most august, the most stupendous sacrifice that could be offered by man. Raise your soul to God and invoke His assistance, His grace and blessing upon yourself and yours.

MEETS PUBLIC FAVOR.

For the coming week the management of the Zoo Park has arranged a bill that is sure to more than satisfy all those who enjoy light amusement in the shape of high class vaudeville, good music and farce comedy. Encouraged by the liberal support of the best class of Louisville's citizens, the management of this popular result has spared no expense in the coming week's vaudeville bill and has engaged a company of ideal entertainers, headed by the celebrated Rackett brothers, favorite specialty artists, who will present all week their spectacular musical novelty, "The Steeple on the Hill." In this act the Rackett brothers introduce high class selections on numerous musical instruments and novelties as well as some splendid singing. The scenic and electrical effects are said to be more than usually elegant, and it is an assured fact that they will prove the hit of the season so far. Stage Manager David O'Brien has arranged for the week a very laughable farce called "A Subject for Dissection," which will keep every one in a happy frame of mind. Mr. O'Brien will assume the principal comedy role and will be assisted by Miss Henrietta Herold and his clever little company. Chantelli, the world renowned hand balancer and acrobat, will appear in his marvelous "turn;" the Spencer brothers will indulge in black face singing, dancing and comedy, and Miss Florence Abbey will render up-to-date songs. Everything at the Zoo is being conducted on a high class scale, and it is for this reason that it is receiving the patronage of the best people. The admission to the park and theater will remain ten cents.

FOURTH JULY CELEBRATION

AT PHOENIX HILL PARK BY

TRINITY MINSTREL COMPANY

Balloon Ascension, Fireworks, Pie Eating Contest and Other Attractions. Athletic Exhibition by the Koster Brothers at night. Supper served at the Park by the Minstrel Company.

Concerts Afternoon and Night

TICKETS, - - - 25 CENTS.

GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The greatest of the many celebrations that are being arranged for the Fourth of July will take place at Phoenix Hill, under the auspices of the Trinity Minstrel Company, composed of well known and prominent young men of this city. There will be an out-door concert both afternoon and night, with balloon ascensions, fireworks, pie eating contests, dancing and other attractions, and an elegant supper in the evening. The intention is to make this the grandest and most patriotic observance of the day ever witnessed at the Hill, where the day has been annually celebrated for many years past.

DEVELOPS STRENGTH.

Edward O'Connor's friends are elated over the strength that has developed for him in the race for Constable for the Seventh Magisterial district, embracing the Eighth, Ninth, Tenth and part of the Eleventh wards, and are now confident of his nomination in the Democratic primary. For some time past he has been serving in that capacity with the utmost satisfaction to the Magistrates and litigants, most of whom have pledged him their undivided support for the place. His business training gives him exceptional advantages and that he would make an exemplary and competent officer all concede.

ARMOR PLATED BOYS.

It is very important in these days of evil that there should be armor plated boys. A boy needs to be iron clad on:

1. His lips—against the first taste of liquor.
2. His ears—against evil sentiments.
4. His heart—against irreverence and doubt.
5. His feet—against going with bad company.
6. His eyes—against dangerous looks, books and pictures.
8. His tongue—against impure words and uncharitable conversations.

HAPPY HOMES.

Many recipes are given nowadays as to how to make home happy, etc. Some one formula and some another, but summed up they all amount to the same thing, and that is, if we wish to make those about us happy, we must consider their tastes, consult their feelings, think of their comfort, in a word, it means effacement to a certain extent. Little things make up the web of our life at home. Little things make us happy and little things make us miserable. A word, a hint, a look, has power to transport us with joy or sting us with anguish. If we would make our homes what they should be we must attend faithfully to the little things which make them so. If we make this rule, how pleasant will be our homes, how proper our habits, how beautiful our lives! How easy and graceful will become our home manners, how elegant and appropriate our home language, how pure and lovely our home characters. Home excellences are the ones we should covet. Home morality and religion are the best. Home love and worth only are real and lasting. Home virtue is for the skies.

GIBBONS ON UNIONS.

Cardinal Gibbons, being asked recently what he thought of trades unions, said: "Throughout the United States and Great Britain there is today a continuous network of syndicates and trusts, of companies and partnerships, so that every business, from the construction of a leviathan steamship to the manufacture of a needle, is controlled by a corporation. When corporations thus combine it is quite natural that mechanics and laborers should follow their example. It would be unjust to deny to workmen the right to band together because of the abuse incident to such combinations unwarrantably seeking to crush or absorb weaker rivals. Another potent reason for encouraging labor unions suggests itself to mind. Secret societies lurking in dark places and plotting the overthrow of existing governments have been the bane of continental Europe. The repressive policy of these governments and their mistrust of the intelligence and virtue of the people, have given rise to those mischievous organizations; for men are apt to consider in secret if not permitted to express their views openly. The public recognition amongst us of the right to organize implies a confidence in the intelligence and honesty of the masses; it affords them an opportunity of training themselves in the school of self-government and in the art of self-discipline; it takes away from them every excuse and pretext for the formation of dangerous societies; it exposes to the light of public scrutiny the constitution and laws of the association and the deliberations of the members; it inspires them with a sense of their responsibility as citizens and with a laudable desire of meriting the approval of their fellow-citizens."

TRANSFER OPPOSED.

The transfer of St. Paul's Cathedral by Bishop Phelan to Henry C. Frick for $1,300,000 is opposed by Father McGighe, of St. John's, and some members of St. Paul's parish, and the Bishop has gone into court. The Cathedral is on Fifth avenue, in the business district of Pittsburgh, and when built in 1852 was the largest church in the United States.

Beige in all its many shades is decidedly modish.

KNIGHTS AND THE UNION.

The meeting of the Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America was held at the Phoenix Hill, all being anxious to hear the reports of Supreme Representatives Veenehan and McGinn, the substance of which was given in these columns at the time of the convention.

The Knights were visited by a special committee from the Catholic Union, headed by Hon. Edward J. McDermott and Miss Mary E. Sheridan, both of whom made addresses that were well received. They explained the purposes of the union and invited all branches to become members.

FASHION'S FOIBLES.

In some of the stockings a few threads of gold are interwoven.

Art buckles, brushes and brooches are very much in evidence.

The old-fashioned tambour white lace veils will be worn with the light spring and summer hats.

Like the famous little girl in the nursery rhyme, the longer the bolero lives the shorter it grows.

White silk roses with black velvet leaves make a lovely trimming on a white straw hat faced with black.

A very stunning outing hat for summer shows a felt crown and a straw brim, both white and trimmed with a soft Persian silk scarf.

Sashes, always a pretty addition to the simple gown, are evidently coming into vogue again and the prettiest are made of chiffon in pale green.

The flower hat, which extends well over the forehead in a sort of peaked shape, is very fashionable, finished with the bow and ends of black velvet ribbon.

A black wool net which comes this season makes very stylish gowns trimmed with stitched bands of black taffeta and a pretty touch of color is added in the sash of pale green mousseline de soie edged with black velvet.

White in all its pure, creamy and white wine tints is to triumph this summer, and very simple white gowns can be furnished with some distinction by a belt wide and pointed at the back, made of flat folds of mauve and blue panne.

Very pretty toques are made by stitching rows of straw in a net foundation and joining them over the net with a cross stitch of gold thread. This sort of hat requires very little trimming except a rosette or a bunch of flowers at one side.

Louisine silk is a decidedly popular fabric for summer gowns and they are tucked without limit from the bust to the knees, where the lace flounce begins. Three half-inch tucks of the silk form a serviceable finish around the edge of the flounce.

Lattice effects in narrow silk bands stitched on are very effectively illustrated on the veiling costumes. The silk matches the veiling, and one example shows groups of three from the waist line to the hem, shorter groups running up from the hem to the top of the circular flounce, where other bands encircle the skirt.

Some of the most effective summer gowns are made of linen in pink, blue or yellow, the skirts in walking length being trimmed with bands piped with white. A little embroidery of the raised heavy kind gives the style to this sort of gown and appears only on the broad collar and cuffs of an Eton jacket. More expensive linen gowns are spotted all over with small designs of this embroidery or trimmed with bands of it set in around the skirt.

RIGHT AND WRONG WAYS.

The attitude of the body in sleeping has a direct influence upon the heart, lungs and digestive organs. The carriage of the body while awake is also largely affected by its position during the third or more of the day spent in sleep. One should always sleep on the right side. The body should be extended to its full length and the head thrown way back. The left arm should be thrown as far back as possible, thus expanding the chest.

When one lies on the left side an unusual weight comes just over the heart, which should, of course, be left as free as possible. Never sleep with the arms extended above the head or the limbs drawn up, for this interferes with circulation. It is also a mistake to lie on the stomach, for this tends to cramp the heart and digestive organs. The lower the pillow the better. High bolsters hold the head at an unusual angle. Many people are made round-shouldered by using too high pillows. The habit of sleeping with the head at such an angle is soon acquired. To cure one's self it is well to reduce the height of the pillow gradually.

It is not enough to ventilate the sleeping-room at night and in the morning. Draughts of air should pass through it freely throughout the day and all night long. Draperies and hangings about the bed should be done away with, as being likely to collect germs, which it is difficult to remove. If one is afraid of draughts a high folding screen may be placed about the head of the bed. The rule of simplicity should hold for all the furnishings of the room. The room should be comparatively cool for a person of normal health, but the bed should be provided with plenty of warm coverings.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 2 elects officers at the next meeting.

With excursions, outings and annual election of officers the divisions of Rhode Island are having a busy month.

The meeting of Division 2 Thursday night was more largely attended than for some months past, many of the oldest members being present.

Division 3 will hold its election of officers Monday night. All members should attend. The old officers have been faithful and will all doubtless be re-elected.

Division 1 of Jeffersonville will have a rousing meeting next Tuesday evening to be followed by a smoker and general good time. The officers for the year will also be elected.

Officers John J. Beirne and Jerry O'Leary visited their division Thursday night. Both are popular and practical Hibernians and the members wish they held office that would permit their regular attendance.

The Hibernian Rifles of Dover, N. H., Capt. John Redmond commanding, participated in the parade and exercises in the city Memorial day and made a creditable showing, their alignments and military bearing being perfect. As a military organization it is second to none in the State, and Hibernians and Irish-Americans feel pretty proud of it.

Rev. Felix McNally, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Armagh, was among the visitors at the last monthly meeting of Division 42 of Philadelphia, held in Grand Army Hall. The good sagar explained the object of his mission from Innisfail, and the division through President O'Brien gave the reverend father substantial encouragement. Five new members were also admitted.

The new regalia arrived in Philadelphia last week, and the great preparations for the successful performance of the exercises of the new initiation were carried out Sunday at Wharton Hall, where a joint meeting of Divisions 31, 46, 59 and 68 was held. Many visiting brothers from all over the city and from New Jersey were present to witness the grand ceremonial, the first in the State of Pennsylvania. All were quite enthusiastic over the affair.

Concord and Laconia Hibernians will celebrate the Fourth of July with a union picnic that will, from present indications, eclipse anything of a similar nature that has ever been held in New Hampshire. Although not a field day of the order in the exact sense of the word, invitations will be extended to other divisions throughout the State to participate. Special trains will be run from all points of vantage for the occasion, and nothing will be left undone to make it in point of magnitude one of the greatest gatherings of our race that ever took place within the confines of the "old Granite State."

The Ancient Order of Hibernians of New York, it was announced Sunday, has bought a plot of four lots on the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street as a site for a new club house. The land cost $90,000, and it is estimated that the building will cost $250,000. The first floor of the structure will contain stores and a hall. The mezzanine floor will have offices, a library and a gymnasium. On the second floor there will be a ball room with a clear floor space of 75x90 feet. The third floor will be divided into six lodge rooms, and above that will be kept a roof garden. The front elevation will be of limestone and brick.

One of the pleasantest events in the history of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Portland, Maine, was the presentation of an elegant silk American flag to Company B, Hibernian Knights, by the Ladies' Aid recently. After inspection by Major Reagan the men were drawn up in "company front" and Mrs. Charles Adams, President of the Ladies' Aid, in a gracefully worded speech presented the company with the beautiful banner. Capt. James O'Neil, on behalf of the company, thanked the donors for their magnificent gift. The company and their guests then retired to the banquet hall, where a bountiful repast was served. This was followed by an excellent musical entertainment.

Division 27 of Natick, Mass., celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary at its last meeting in Hibernian Hall, which was handsomely decorated. A banquet was served, State and county officers in large numbers being present as invited guests and responding to toasts. William J. Flynn, the first President, read a historical sketch of the division. The celebration marked the first quarter-century existence of one of the strongest and most influential divisions in Massachusetts. On May 10, 1893, the division took the initiative in the custom, which has since gained favor in other sections, of decorating the graves of deceased members on Memorial day. A flag marks the grave of each and a basket of flowers is placed beside it every year. The family of the departed member being invited to attend the short prayer service held in the cemetery by the Board of Directors of the divisions. On January 1, 1900, under the Presidency of the late Martin Hall, a fine wooden building on Sumner street was bought by the Division Building Association, and there the members now meet in exceptionally fine quarters owned by themselves, for every member of the division becomes a member of the building association soon after being initiated. The Ladies' Auxiliary has over 100 members.

All the Judges under whom he has served recommend Alf V. Oldham Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Police Court.

The late Judge R. H. Thompson, who was Judge of the Police Court for sixteen years, said of Alf Oldham's office: "It has never been so satisfactory since I have been Judge of this court."

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

On Saturday night a man named Everett, a factory hand, was knocked down by a tram car near Douglas, Cork. He sustained severe injuries, from which he died.

The proprietors of the Belfast & Northern Counties Railway Company at a special meeting held on Friday unanimously decided in favor of the acquisition of the line of the Derry Central Railway Company.

A special demonstration under the auspices of the United Irish League was held in Mountrath on Sunday. Contingents were present from all parts of the county and great enthusiasm was manifested.

An inquest was held at Beaufort, County Kerry, on Wednesday on the body of a girl named Britton, a lady's maid, whose body was found in the Laune. The jury found a verdict of accidental drowning.

The charges of breach of contract brought by the Gas Company against a number of their men came before the Cork Magistrate on Thursday. After hearing evidence the Magistrate reserved judgment for a week.

W. F. Macartney Filgate visited Cork on Tuesday at the request of the Hon. Horace Plunkett, and accompanied by the Lord Mayor and the City Engineer made an inspection of the proposed site of the Cork Exhibition.

At the Cork Board of Guardians a complaint was made that a patient, believed to be a Catholic, was kept in the Protestant portion of the house, and that in the event of the woman dying some disagreeable consequences were likely to ensue. It was decided to have a thorough investigation instituted. The board adjourned as a mark of respect to the memory of the late guardian, Jeremiah Horgan.

The eighth Irish Trades Union Congress was opened on Monday in the Town Hall, Sligo, and was largely attended by delegates from all parts of Ireland. John Simmons, the President for the ensuing year, presided. Seventy-five delegates were present, representing 52,000 workers. Thirty-six delegates were from Dublin and twenty-five from Belfast. The Mayor of Sligo, Alderman Foley, welcomed the delegates.

On Monday evening Mrs. M. Doyle, wife of the Courtkeeper of Bray, died suddenly at her residence. The deceased, who had some friends visiting her, was standing in the door of the court-house and fell suddenly to the ground. The priest and doctor were sent for and the Rev. Father McNevin and Dr. Moorehead arrived almost immediately. On the arrival of the doctor he pronounced life to be extinct. Death resulted from disease of the heart.

It was with regret that the people of Drogheda town heard the news of the death of Luke J. Healy, which occurred after a lengthened illness at his residence in West street. In the early sixties he was a famous oarsman and a member of the Emerald Rowing Club. After a time the Drogheda Rowing Club was also formed and in conjunction with the late Dr. Kelly the deceased succeeded in establishing the annual aquatic carnival on the Boyne—"the Boyne regatta."

A great demonstration was held at Kinvara on Sunday in furtherance of the object of the United Irish League. At an early hour the picturesque little town was thronged by a great concourse of people, and as each contingent arrived from surrounding parishes ringing cheers greeted them. Clarenbridge and Rooveagh had a splendid turnout, headed by their life and drum band, followed by an immense procession of horsemen dressed in green sashes and wearing their membership cards on their hats.

On Sunday one of the largest and most representative meetings that has been held in South Mayo since the inception of the United Irish League was held at Ballinrobe. The immense square at Abbey street was thronged and the lowest calculations put the assemblage down at 10,000 persons. Nearly every town in South Mayo was represented, while large contingents came from Headford and Galway. There was a big force of police, under command of District Inspector Lowndes. The platform was erected in the center of the square and was nicely draped with ivy.

A sad fatality was brought to light in Belfast on Wednesday afternoon when a man's hat and coat were found on the bank adjoining Woodvale Park. A sergeant and several constables proceeded to the dam, and on examining the coat found in one of the pockets a slip of paper on which were written the words, "May God have mercy on my soul." The dam was thereupon dragged and after an hour and a half's search the body of a man named Robert Graham, Cavour street, fully dressed, except his coat and hat, was discovered. Deceased was a sawyer by trade.

Lawrence Donnelly, fireman in the employment of the Midland railway, met with a serious accident on Sunday evening. He was engaged on the goods train which left Broadstone Station for the North Wall and when passing over the Great Southern & Western line at Glasnevin he went along the engine to oil it. As he did not return the engine driver stopped the train and searched the line for him. He found Donnelly lying in a place called the tunnel with his skull fractured. The injured man was at once removed to the Richmond Hospital, where he lies in a critical condition.
